GI event round up

On 23rd May, Mayo Clinic Healthcare hosted a GI networking event for healthcare professionals. Over 60 attendees toured our clinic and heard from our expert gastroenterologists about the latest developments in GI care.

Professor Prasad discussed the growing incidence of early-onset colorectal cancer, genetic and lifestyle risk factors and the importance of early detection. Dr Sami discussed common GI conditions such as heartburn, reflux disease and motility, and the latest tests and treatment options available.

Autumn cardiology event

We are pleased to invite you to attend our autumn cardiology event on 5th September and hear from Mayo Clinic Rochester cardiologist Professor Bernard J. Gersh on the latest advances in cardiology, followed by two case studies.
